

Testimonial:

Jed S. ~ Bellevue, WA

I'm an Insurance Wholesaler and essentially run my own business. It's easy to get distracted by all the various projects and concerns that are a part of my business day. Before being coached by Stacy I would unwittingly end up wasting time on things that were not very productive.

On my white board (list of things to do which is posted on the wall) I had a list of projects that were just sitting there. I definitely had problems focusing and getting these projects completed but Stacy found a way to simplify the steps and now that board is practically empty.

As a result of coaching with Stacy I have become more organized, efficient and effective. I enjoy her positive outlook on life and she is very passionate about helping people reach their goals. She rocks! I appreciate everything she has done for me and my business.